

Enhanced Living

Enhanced living is a living option unique to Independence Village that bridges independent living and assisted living. Here's a guide for everything you need to know about enhanced living.

Senior living communities typically offer a few standard living options: independent living and assisted living, and in some cases, memory care.

But what if your needs don't totally fit into one category? What if your loved one is in independent living yet could benefit from additional support services?

That's where Independence Village comes in. Continue reading to discover how enhanced living, a service unique to Independence Village, allows residents to live the life they want with flexible care that is personalized to their needs.

What is Enhanced Living?

At Independence Village, we believe that every senior's care should be just as unique as they are. That's why we created enhanced living, an in-between service offering that bridges independent living and assisted living.

On the independent living side, residents enjoy the autonomy and residential setting of a private apartment and all the perks of life in our independent living neighborhood. On the assisted living side, residents benefit from a variety of care services to help them make the most of each day. In addition, these services are flexible, and can be expanded or reduced at any time depending on your needs.

In short, enhanced living is ideal for those whose wants and needs don't fit solely into one living option.

Is Enhanced Living Right for You?

The reasons for choosing enhanced living are different for everyone. So, how do you know if enhanced living is right for you or your loved one?

Enhanced living at Independence Village may be a good fit for you if:

You don't want to be bothered with household chores or mundane home upkeep. In enhanced living, you'll receive three chef-prepared meals per day, daily housekeeping, laundry services and more.

You are looking for care services that are as unique as you are and can support you as you need them.

You're feeling lonely. Whether you're looking for days full of socialization or simply long to be a part of the community, Independence Village is here to get to know you and make your retirement experience everything you want it to be.

You prefer the independence of true apartment living.

“My mother has been a resident in enhanced living since the summer of 2019. Her one-bedroom apartment is bright, and her belongings and furnishings make it into a very pleasant personal space. The move into a managed care community is a difficult one, but many people at Independence Village are helping my mom — and frankly, me — make the transition.”

The Independence Village Difference

Whether residents need independent living, enhanced living, assisted living or memory care, at Independence Village, we offer a full continuum of living options across our communities to meet the needs of those we serve. We know that each resident has their own unique story, and we take the time to get to know each of them in order to provide thoughtful care, create meaningful experiences and provide peace of mind. To us, it matters which residents like their coffee black and those who will always know the score of last night's game. It is crucial to us to form connections with every resident and get to know what makes them, them.

Why? So that we can make every experience in our community truly special, and so that each resident knows they belong and matter as a member of our Independence Village family.

In addition, residents at Independence Village have access to sought-after amenities and experiences. Whether it's enjoying a delicious, chef-prepared meal in the dining room or attending a life enrichment event with new friends, Independence Village residents can fill their days with activities (and people!) that bring them joy and give them something to look forward to every day.

"My loved one thought it was a great place, she was able to make lots of friends. In fact, she wishes she would've moved earlier to the community."
